Boeing's Top 5 Aircraft Types Since 2000

by Tom Boon January 14, 2022

Boeing is one of the two major aircraft manufacturers in the commercial aviation sphere. Since 2000, the American aerospace giant has delivered over 10,000 aircraft ranging from a handful of Boeing 747-400 Combis, all the way up to its most popular models. But what are the company's top five models based on deliveries since 2,000? Simple Flying turned to data compiled by Air Insight to find out.

5. The Boeing 787-9

Despite a stoppage on Boeing 787 deliveries for much of 2021, the middle aircraft of the Dreamliner family was the fifth most delivered Boeing type over the past 22 years. Since launching deliveries in 2014, Boeing has delivered 563 787-9 Dreamliners. The aircraft has been delivered more than the 787-8 (377 deliveries) and the 787-10 (61 deliveries) combined.
